 - 1. An Executive Council Member
 - 2. A Student Senator
 - 3. The Parliamentarian
 - 4. A Petition signed by no less than one hundred students.
- B. After discussion and debate, a vote shall be held in the Student Senate. If it receives majority support, the proposed amendment must go up for public discussion.
 - 1. The ECOS media, Directors of Communications, Public Relations, and Elections must advertise the proposed amendments.
 - 2. After a period of no less than two weeks, the proposed amendments must return to the Senate in a public forum attended by the Executive Council members.

Section 1102 Approval of Amendments

- A. Amendments must be approved by the Student Senate and the Executive Council.
- B. A vote shall be held in the aforementioned public forum that is widely advertised ahead of time.
- C. If quorum of both bodies is achieved, the vote goes ahead.
- D. If a single member of the Executive Council votes against, OR if more than one Senator votes against, the amendment fails.
- E. If all Executive Council members vote in favor or abstain, and if no more than one Student Senator votes against, the amendment passes and becomes part of the official constitution.

Section 1103 Amending the Constitution

- A. Upon being approved by ECOS, all amendments will be placed chronometrically at the end of this Constitution, with the first one numbered Amendment 1, the second Amendment 2, and so on.
- B. The original constitution and any subsequent versions shall always be accessible through archives.
